Spring

Season when various flowers bloom "It is the season of flower". Taste the refreshing sea breeze and just right place for cycling.

Classical view of Awa shrine

E-3

Awa shrine is said to be referred to as beginning of god around this region. see info \(P.10\)

Azaleas the view from shiroyama

C-3

Enjoy the full blooms of 500 Yoshino cherry trees-the most common cherry tree in Japan. And in May about 6,000 azaleas and 4,000 Satsuki azaleas come into bloom.

Summer

The hottest season with highest temperature. Tateyama is one of popular "Summer Resort" in Japan for a long time.

Lighting up the scenery with 10thousand Firework

B-3

About ten thousand fireworks are launched over the sea in the festival, lighting up the summer sky. The fireworks launched from the sea are a particular attraction. The festival is held on August 8th every year.

Few minutes walk to sea

B-3

There are many safe places to go for a swim in Tateyama City. Hojo beach is just three minutes' walk from west of JR Tateyama Station.

Hottest Event "Flamenco festival"

B-4

Japanese college students who love flamenco gather here every summer from all over the country to enjoy the Flamenco Festival. You can see flamenco every day in Tateyama City on and around August 10th.

Fall

The gentle sea breeze makes winter season arrive very slow so you can enjoy autumn leaves from middle of November. And perfect season for doing trekking.

Spectacular "Yawatan-machi"

B-4

With a history reaching over a thousand years, The biggest festival in Tateyama city is "Yawatan-machi". Eleven mikoshi and five dashi (float) from fifteen shrines in the area turn out for the event. Enjoy the rolls of drum and energetic voice echo.

Nanso Satomi Festival

B-3

This festival has traces of the period of civil wars in Japan 500 years ago, and it is a time to experience the history and traditions of Tateyama. There' s a parade of 200 people or more dressed as samurai, and a reenactment of a battle from this period. There' s a festive taiko drum contest and a fireworks show to add to the excitement.

Trees dressed with Red and Yellow

C-3

Tateyama City is a particularly warm part of Japan. The season of autumn leaves happens in November and December, with the trees dressing themselves in red. There are lots of shrines and temples in the woods where you can enjoy the fall colors.

Winter

It is unusual having below freezing point so it is called "Temperate Area" and you can enjoy various flowers bloom in the fields even in January. Here is the warmest place in capital region, including Tokyo and Kanagawa.

Yudate Shinji (Boiling Water Ceremony)

C-1

On or around January 15th at Itsukushima Shrine by the sea, they hold a festival in which boiling water is heated up in pots and then scattered, to pray for good catches for the fishermen and for good luck against illness. They say it is good luck if you get sprayed with this hot water – you will be lucky and free from misfortune.

Enjoy Marathon

Tateyama Wakashio Marathon is held in late January, in the temperate breeze, along a beautiful coastline. It's a popular marathon, with over ten thousand people taking part.

Pick your own colorful flower

D-2

A magnificent scenery of Mt.Fuji in Tateyama

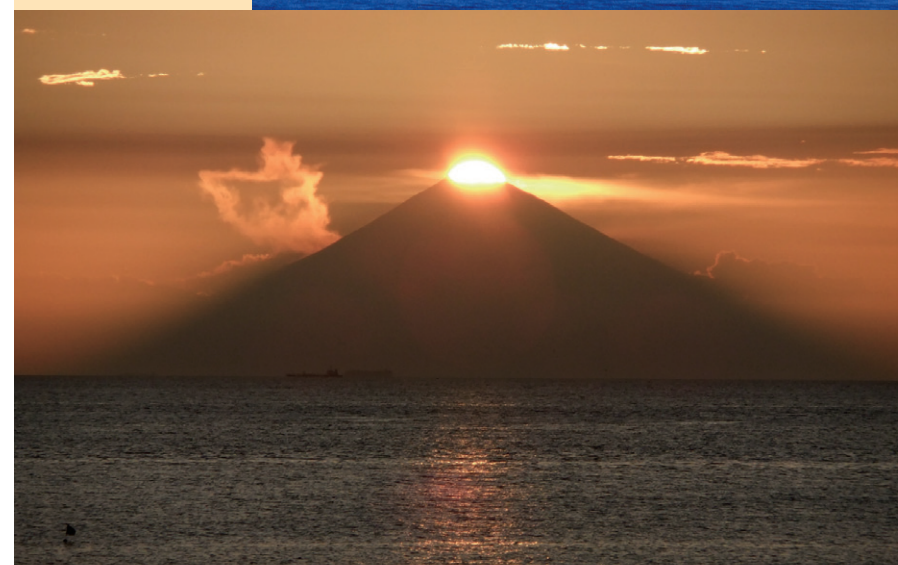

The sunset is so great

Situated along the shore, Tateyama City's scenery is very beautiful as the sun goes down. While the Hojo beach is especially beautiful – earning its place in the Top One Hundred Sunsets of Japan – you can enjoy the beauty of the twilight all over the city.

The Beauty of Mt.Fuji

Mt.Fuji is a renowned World Heritage site. It is visible over the waters from Tateyama. The distance to Mt.Fuji is about 110km, about the same distance from Tateyama to Tokyo.

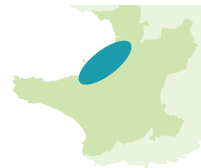

Diamond Fuji

At sunrise and sunset, you can see Mt.Fuji shining like a diamond. This view is referred to as "Diamond Fuji." Every year in the middle of May and at the end of July, you can see this natural work of art from Tateyama Bay (Kagamigaura), interweaving Mt.Fuji and the glistening sun.

Tateyama area 館山

This is the downtown area, close to JR Tateyama Station. It is the center of commerce and transport, and an area retaining the city's history unchanged.

Tateyama Yuhi sanbashi

Butting out into the sea, the road-bearing Tateyama Sunset Pier is Japan's longest, at about 500 meters. Many kinds of ships come here to dock throughout the year. There's a maritime history museum at the foot of the pier, along with souvenir shops and other facilities, collectively known as "Nagisa no Eki Tateyama." There is also an observation platform, where you can look out over the pier and Tateyama Bay.

How to enjoy a Hot Spring (Onsen)

1. Make sure to take a shower before you get in the bath.
2. Scoop some water out of the bath and splash it over yourself before you get in, so you can acclimatize yourself to the temperature of the water.
3. Slide into the water quietly.

Hot spring Etiquette

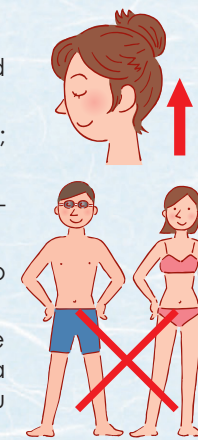

Make sure not to let your hand towel get in the water.

Keep your hair out of the water; if it is long, tie it up.

Swimsuits are not worn in Japanese hot springs.

A hot spring is not a bath, so do not wash yourself in the water.

Before you head back to the dressing room, dry yourself off a bit with your hand towel as you get out of the water.

Enjoying Japanese Hospitality at a Traditional Japanese Inn (ryokan)

It is a really great idea to enjoy the Japanese hospitality on offer at a traditional Japanese inn, or ryokan. At a ryokan, you can dine on the finest Japanese cuisine in an at-home atmosphere, hang out with the staff on friendly terms, bathe in hot springs that will wash all your cares and fatigue away – and then to bed, in a traditional Japanese futon.

The chambermaids at a traditional Japanese inn are called nakai-san. They are in charge of your room. If there is anything you are not sure about, they are the people to ask. The okami-san – the lady of the house – runs the whole establishment, and sets its tone. She is kind of like your mom while you are staying there. A ryokan is a place to really kick back and relax, and we strongly recommend the experience.

In case of Emergency

If you have been involved in a traffic accident:

First, calm down and dial 110. Tell them precisely when and where the accident happened along with your name, phone number, and car license plate number.

If you have been robbed, involved in an incident, etc:

First, calm down and dial 110. Tell them precisely when and where the incident happened along with the situation of the damage, your name, phone number, etc.

Make an emergency call to ☎ 110

If you have become lost or have lost something:
The "KOBAN" sign indicates a police box. Police boxes are located in crowded places such as train stations and downtown areas. Police officers are ready 24 hours a day to provide assistance.

Go to a police box

If you have become sick, injured, etc:

If you have suddenly become sick or injured and require immediate assistance, call 119 right away.

If there is a fire:

If you are in a shop, evacuate the premises in accordance with the instructions from the employees. If you are in a hotel, make an emergency call to 119 and evacuate through the emergency exit.

Make an emergency call to ☎ 119

If there is an earthquake:

Hide under a table to protect yourself from falling objects until the shaking stops instead of rushing outside the building. Turn on the TV or radio and find out what the situation is.

Gather information from TV or radio
